

For a gainful belief the shepherd deserted, binding the flock to the cage, and two of each species came to be led where no streets are laid

For a gainful belief the shepherd deserted, forsaking the flock to the cage, and two of each species came to be led where no streets are laid